

Architectural Design and Engineering Services

The first practical test of any building or site design project is simply this: Will it work right? Passing that test requires understanding, careful analysis and thorough planning. Our design team will take on your challenges, whether they are space planning, interior and exterior aesthetics, optimizing environmental climate, increasing the efficiency of lighting, heating and cooling, or producing state of the sustainable facilities. Then, we'll develop comprehensive, practical and efficient solutions to bridge the gap between concept and reality.

Our Architects and Engineers work closely with you to ensure that the final design will exist in harmony with its surroundings, efficiently serve the needs of its occupants, and function smoothly. Above all, every Turner Group design is conceived with the goal of providing a safe, comfortable, economical, and healthy environment for everyone.

We've all experienced the sensation: that moment you enter a room or a building and feel absolute rightness. The way the light and shadow perfectly sculpt the area. The modulation of sound in harmony with structure. The absolute interaction of human creation with ongoing human endeavor. The ultimate blending of form and function. At The Turner Group our design team is committed to the creation and realization of architecture and engineering at its finest.

Facilities designed to meet your needs and your budgetary expectations. All coupled with experience, technical innovation, and vision.

The Turner Group specializes in designing healthy, sustainable buildings. By focusing on making your building safe, clean and comfortable, while providing for the efficient flow of people and materials, we are able to design buildings that are not only pleasing to the eye, but also enjoyable to inhabit. Our approach to design and construction ensures that the investment you make in your building today will continue to deliver benefits well into the future.
